

KS4 – 5 Transition
Level 3 Design Engineer Construct

To be able to design great buildings, it helps to have a good understanding of styles and movements that have gone before. Each new movement usually builds on the one before

Below is a list of the key architectural periods in the UK. Choose 5 of these periods and find at least one example of a building for each. Name the architect, the movement, date and country. You must include an image of the building and a brief summary of the key elements that influence each movement. Also, state which your favourite is and least favourite movement, why?
